ANDY LIM CHOU SANG

Multi-discipline designer

Pretoria, South Africa

I work across advertising, motion, print and live screens. Most projects start as one idea that has to survive a 4.5 x 18m billboard, a lift door, a portrait booth screen and a social cutdown in the same week.

I like a hard edge: a deadline, an odd screen size, a mechanic that has to land in one frame. I've shipped campaigns, logo stings, arena visuals, kiosks and small games, and led the team doing it.

HOW I WORK

01 One system, every surface.

Identity, motion and print built from the same rules, so a campaign reads as one thing at any size.

02 Built for the first glance.

Floor screens and passing traffic give you seconds. I design for that, then reward the second look.

03 In-house, start to finish.

Concept, shoot, edit, grade, print and build under one roof means fewer handoffs and faster turnarounds.
